

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wednesday, January 1st, 2020

Contact Shawn Short, 202-540-8338

Dissonance Dance Theatre Featured in First Book

Website: www.ngcfddt.org

Dissonance Dance Theatre is immortalized in the new book Timeless Dance. Remixed.

Published through Bookbaby and designed by Dog Bark Media, Timeless Dance. Remixed. is an exceptional collection of images showcasing the range, beauty, and artistry of Dissonance Dance Theatre. A joy for lovers of dance and photography.

"Dissonance Dance Theatre's multi-racial make-up, youthful exuberance, and high-quality professionalism gives it a solid place as something to be proud of within the District's dance scene." - DC Journalism Project

The images of the coffee-table book are taken by Dissonance Dance Theatre's Founding Director/House Photographer Shawn Short, MFA.

A native to Washington, D.C., Short's images have been published in Metro Weekly Magazine, Washington Blade, Dance Magazine, and Black Dance Magazine. Short is an alumnus of Howard University's Division of Fine Arts - Theater Arts Dept.

Copies of the book can be purchase at:

BookBaby: <https://store.bookbaby.com/book/timeless-dance-remixed>

Amazon: <https://www.amazon.com/Timeless-Dance-Remixed-Award-Winning-Dissonance/dp/1734154101>

#####

Ngoma Center for Dance (N-Go-mah) is a Washington, DC 501(c)3 arts organization whose mission is to provide a conduit between multicultural dance artists and their enthusiasts, across generations and social classes, with a deeper understanding of the art of dance through intense community integration, inspirational performance, competitive training, and artist development. Ngoma is the parent organization of professional company Dissonance Dance Theatre.